FEDERAL CONTROL OF COAL IS URGED

Federal Commission Points Only Manner To Handle Situation

WASHINGTON, JUNE 20.—Drastic war time government control was urged for coal, coke and transportation by the Federal Trade Commission today as the only adequate remedies for an alarming coal price and supply situation.

Complying with congressional requests for a coal probe, the commission pointed out that the coal situation threatents industries and individuals and recommended:

"FIRST, that the production and distribution of coal and coke be conducted thru a pool in the hands of a government agency; that the producers of various grades of fuel be paid their full cost of production plus a uniform profit per ton, with due allonwance for quality of product and efficiency of service.

"SECOND, that the transportation agencies of the United States, both rail and water, be similarly pooled and operated on government account under the direction of the president, and that all such means of transportation be operated as a unit, the owning corporations being paid a just and fair compensation which would cover normal net profit, upkeep and betterments."

The commission advised against recruiting miners for the army, pointing out that uncertain labor conditions have already tended to disorganize the industry at a critical time.

"The commission believes that the coal industry is paralyzing the industries of the country," says the report, "and that the coal industry itself is paralyzed by the failure of transportation.

"The coal problem cannot be worked out so long as the railroads are permitted to divide and allot traffic; to lay embargoes without regard to their immediate effect upon indusry or upon the systematic distribution of coal; to give priority to the movement of high freight rate commodities and to use the device of the 'long haul.'"

The commission warned that, if recent conditions continue, there will be real suffering in this country next winter, while industries and public service corporations will be hard hit.

Gambling in coal is going on the report says. The speculative element in coal prices is causing "an irreparable situation" and a dangerous tendency toward inflation in all businesses due to the fact that all contracts allow a liberal margin for skyrocketing of coal prices.

Calls For 70,000 More Volunteers

WASHINGTON, JUNE 20.—President Wilson issued a call for 70,000 volunteers for the war of German autocracy late this afternoon. In a proclamation he designated the week from June 23 to 30 as "recruiting week" for the regular army.

The president's proclamation follows:

"I hereby designate the period June 23 to June 30, next, as recruiting week for the regular army and call upon unmarried men, between the ages of 18 and 40 years, who have no dependents and who are not engaged in pursuits vitally necessary to the prosecution of the war to present themselves for enlistment during the week herein designated to the number of seventy thousand."

Recruiting for the regular army has shown an alarming slump during the period since June 1. The president's proclamation, with a vigorous drive to be launched by the army recruiting service, is counted upon to bring enlistment figures back to normal. Yesterday's recruiting brought 1,178 men into the service, making the total recruited since April 1, 121,363.

The banners wers inscribed:

"President Wilson and Envoy Root are deceiving Russia. They say 'We are a democracy. Help us win a world war so that democracy may survive.'

Shortage Of Workmen But Not Of Food

CHICAGO, JUNE 19—"The prospects for a record-breaking food yield are such that I can see no justification for abnormal prices," said C. J. Blanchard, chief statistican of the federal reclamation service, who has completed a survey of crops on reclamation projects, and stopped in Chicago today.

"It is going to be a whale of a crop," said Mr. Blanchard, "but the problem remains to get labor on to these great tracts for the harvest."

Projects in Colorado, New Mexico, Texas, Utah, Idaho, Nebraska and South Dakota, were surveyed. He estimated that while gross returns were $38 an acre last year, they would be $40 this year if properly harvested.

Blanchard found that farmers had extended themselves to increase production and that bankers and merchants had patriotically assisted by granting credits often without security. A less satisfactory discovery was that England's mistake in enlisting skilled farmers had been repeated on many of the projects. Their places will have to be taken by inexperienced help, and that Mr. Blanchard said, is a serious handicap.

"Western women are doing their share," continued Blanchard. "They have pledged themselves to help in the harvests, too, and I look for a sharp drop in prices of garden truck."

The statistican said that he was convinced that the United States will have to emulate European methods of mobilizing productive forces and conserving the food supply after crops have been harvested.

TAX RATE FIGURES.

After a preliminary review of the budget the county commissioners and the auditor announced Tuesday that the tax rate for the coming year would not be higher than last, and might be a trifle less. Last year's rate was 4.8 mills. The state levy this year is the same as last but the emergency will be .7 of a mill instead of .8 as last year.

It was estimated Tuesday that the total county rate, including the extra one mill levy voted for road purposes would be 4.7 mills divided as follows: county fund 1 and 175-350, infirmary, 123-350; children's home, 30-350; bridge fund 211-350; road fund 25-350; judicial 25-350, soldiers' relief 35-350; blind relief, 15-350, inter-county highway bonds and interest 40-350; bridge bonds and interest, 17-350; emergency bonds and interest, .7; road levy by vote, 1 mill.

JAIL DE LUXE, BUT EMPTY.

Westchester Offers Marble Baths, Etc., but Can't Get Convicts.

New York.—V. Everit Macy, multimillionaire commissioner of correction of Westchester county, has taken over the new penitentiary de luxe at East View, but he cannot get any prisoners to fill it.

There are plenty of Westchester men serving sentences—200, in fact—but they were committed to Blackwell's Island for their full terms and there seems no legal way to transfer them. New York would like to get rid of them but can't. Mr. Macy needs at least forty at once or there will be no garden truck, in the summer there being no one to plant the garden.

The prison has marble shower baths, writing desks, real linen for the tables and pretty much all the comforts of home except freedom.

BOY STUCK IN BIG GUN.

With the Help of a Rope He Came Out All Right.

South Bethlehem, Pa.—The Bethlehem Steel works recently forged the first sixteen inch gun for the United States navy, the second made in this country. The first one, also cast here, guards the Atlantic entrance to the Panama canal and can fire a shot almost sixteen miles.

A slender apprentice wanted to have the honor of having crawled through the sixteen inch naval gun. It wasn't an easy job to work himself along, and halfway through he got stuck and yelled for help. Some of the men wanted to pull him out backward, but one of the mechanics sympathized with the boy and pushed in a rope from the front. He managed to get it around his shoulders and eventually landed head foremost.

HISTORY OF SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSOCIATION

Interesting Facts Recorded In Old Pamphlets.

Strange and interesting facts are records in the old and yellowish pamphlets which tell the history of the Ohio Sunday School Association, preparing to hold its fifty-eighth annual convention at Marion, June 27, 28 and 29. It may be a surprise to many to know that Cincinnati is the place where the state Sunday school work originated. This was in the year 1858, when the Sunday School Union was organized and a call went out for a state convention to meet in Cincinnati, May 12, 1859. With the exception of the year 1861, conventions have been held annually from that time to the present, always in the principal cities of the state.

These leaflets show that the leading citizens of the state also have taken prominent part in the work from the very inception. Some of these men have risen to national prominence in the Sunday school field, as in the case of Marion Lawrance and Dr. Joseph Clark.

The struggle for existence which the Sunday School Association was forced to make in the early days is vividly recalled by these pamphlets. In 1860 the convention was held at Columbus, when the state was divided into twenty-two districts and a person appointed to collect statistics concerning the Sabbath schools, as they were then called. At that time there were enrolled 125,700 pupils in 1,663 schools with an average attendance of 92,000. In 1862 more than fifty counties were organized. In 1869 the entire eighty-eight responded.

The first traveling secretary was employed in 1867 at a salary of $1800 and $320 for traveling expenses. The postage for the entire year amounted to $3.25, about as much as is now spent in one day. Then followed dark days for the Sunday School Association, when there was extreme difficulty in securing money for the conduct of the work. However, the work picked up again in 1880 and since then it has grown until now the association finds itself with 9000 Sunday schools and 120,000 teachers and officers under its supervision, with an enrollment of 1,250,000 persons. It is estimated that 40,000 persons join church annually out of the Sunday school of the church. The state association budget amounts to $23,000 a year. There are 3000 Home Departments in the state, with a membership of 65,000, and 85,000 babies on its Cradle Roll.

One hundred and twelve names appear on the program of the Ohio Sunday School convention to be held at Marion, June 27, 28 and 29. Eighty-six men have a place on the program, while only 26 women will participate.

DR. FRANKLIN M'ELFRESH.

Dr. Franklin McElfresh, who has several important audresses on the program of the Ohio Sunday School Association convention at Marion, June 27, 28 and 29, is known wherever Methodism has a footing in Ohio. He has filled a number of important pulpits in the larger cities, was superintendent of the Zanesville district for six years, is chairman of the Educational Committee of the State Association, and is now actively engaged in educational work for the International Association. His business headquarters are at Chicago, but he maintains his headquarters at Columbus.

HELP THE RED CROSS

WIVES ARE WANTED IN THE RUBBER CITY

No girls are wall-flowers in Akron, according to Edward Mott Woolley, in McClure's Magazine for July. Mr. Woolley has written an article called "Akron: Standing Room Only," an excellent review of Ohio's rubber industry. One of the human interest touches in his article follows:

"Akron is a curious matrimonial market for the fair sex, but men looking for wives should hunt elsewhere. At a guess I should say there are ten men to one woman in Akron.

"The young woman who comes to Akron a stranger, as many do, finds it easy to get work—if she is ordinarily capable—but the housing problem confronts her. Most of the boarding houses cater exclusively to men, and in those that take women it is hard to find vacant places. If an applicant gets in at all, she is compelled to share a room with other women, and for cramped and uncongenial accommodations she pays at least seven or eight dollars a week. Usually she has long walks to and from her work, for the street car situation in the rush hours is unspeakable.

"On Sunday all this great body of workers lies idle—most of them without home or family ties. There are amusement parks in the outskirts, run by the traction people, and many lakes are round about. The woods are ideal trysting places, but to tryst without a girl isn't much fun. Consequently thousands of men go to Cleveland, a few hours away by trolley.

"I am reliably informed that almost every girl in Akron gets perhaps ten confidential messages each Saturday, from as many forehanded young men who believe in preparedness against that awful Sunday ennui. Akron will be a happier city when there are enough bright feminine smiles to go around."

ILLICIT STILLS DECREASE

Prohibition Reduces the Plants and Output of Moonshiners.

Washington, D. C.—The claim of liquor men that moonshining is on the increase, particularly in Prohibition states, is not borne out by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue. According to this official, 3,754 illicit stills were seized in 1915 and 2,595 in 1916, a reduction of 1,159. Of this reduction 906 were in Prohibition states. Not a seizure was made in the prohibition states of Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, North Dakota, Oregon and Washington.

The number of gallons of illicit liquor seized in 1915 was 34,381, and in 1916, 28,868, a reduction of 5,513. Of this reduction 4,738 gallons is to the credit of states that became dry January 1, 1916. This shows the influence of Prohibition in rooting out moonshining.

Newsy Paragraphs

COLUMBUS, O., JUNE 19—D. B. McCormick, farmer near Bucyrus, who as a bill clerk for the legislature last winter collected $131 in tips and turned the proceeds over to the general revenue fund of the state, was in the statehouse the other day looking for another state job. He got the job.

Fred C. Croxton, head of the labor division of the Ohio branch of the National Council of Defense, accepted him as clerk in one of the 21 employment offices of the state. His salary will be $75 a month.

Croxton regards McCormick as being peculiarly fitted for a labor exchange position because beside being a farmer, he has had four summers' experience as foreman of a highway contractors' gang and some experience as a clerk in a railroad office.

With their farm seeded and planted, McCormick said, his father and a brother are able to do the harvest work this summer.

COLUMBUS, O., JUNE 19—Such preservatives as salt, sugar, spices or vinegar may safely be added in palatable quantities to canned goods. But the use of boric acid, sodium benzoate, salicylic acid, and all canning powders is to be heartily discouraged, says a report from the agricultural college extension service of the Ohio State University. If good materials are used and canning is carefully done they are entirely unnecessary. The department also recommends the use of crockery provided with lids for sealing in place of glass jars for the canning of fruits and vegetables.

A Bird Cage.

If you have a bird, do let him live in a beautiful house. A wicker bird cage is not necessarily expensive, and not only will your little bird be happier therein, but surely you and your room will be happier, too, for this ideal note of decoration. For it is the details of a room which count most mightily, and which are so often neglected as being of no account. So if you have a bird, do consider a good-looking cage. —Exchange.

Great For Emergencies

San Cura Ointment Should Be In Every Home.

There never was known a more reliable ointment than San-Cura. In most every case where it has been used it has created astonishment. It drew a needle out of the foot of the daughter of Mrs. James Hitchcock, of Centreville, Pa., after the doctor had used his lance and failed.

It has great healing and antiseptic value. It possesses so much healing virtue that it is guaranteed by Page & Lorenz and Wimmer Arnold to relieve any kind of piles, eczema, tetter, salt rheum, boils, carbuncles, ulcers, all kinds of chronic sore, chilblains, and chapped hands, or money back.

It's mighty handy remedy to have in the house in emergencies for bruises, burns, cuts or scalds because it relieves the pain and is antiseptic and healing. It's a medicine chest in itself—a little family physician that is ever in demand. 25c and 50c a jar at Page & Lorenz and Wimmer-Arnold.

BEST SKIN SOAP.

Is San Cura Soap, because of its great antiseptic and healing virtues. Use it regularly, and it will make the skin soft and velvety; will remove pimples and blackheads. It's the real soap for babies' tender skin, which mothers of infants should remember. 25 cents a cake at Page & Lorenz and Wimmer-Arnold.

IF YOU WANT CLEAN HEALTHY LUXURIANT HAIR
IF YOU WANT TO STOP HAIR FALLING
IF YOU WANT TO PREVENT ITCHING OF THE SCALP

Use Kreamol Shampoo

KREAMOL not only removes the dust, dirt and dandruff but brings out the life and lustre of the hair—keeps it soft, fresh and healthy in appearance.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR

is simply the result of giving it the proper care and attention. Frequent and regular washing is necessary to keep it fresh and clean. Discriminating women—the women who care—have found by experience that the best thing to use is Kreamol.

IT GIVES SATISFACTORY RESULTS.—HERE IS POSITIVE PROOF

Mrs. Frank Thornton, Athens, Ohio, writes:—"Your Kreamol Shampoo gives entire satisfaction. It removes dandruff and gives a gloss to the hair, that other kinds of shampoo does not give. After using it my friends remarked—'What a pretty gloss your hair has,' and I answered—'Kreamol Shampoo has done that.'"

Mrs. J. M. Fenton, Swanton, Ohio, writes:—"Your Kreamol Shampoo is the finest I have ever used. It left my hair soft and silky and made it easy to put up. It is easy to wash one's hair with Kreamol."

Mrs. Daisy Isom, Bloomington, Ind., writes:—"I will never be without Kreamol Shampoo again. It is a necessity. For cleaning the hair and scalp, your Kreamol is unequaled. I can and certainly will recommend it to my friends."

Mrs. J. E. Kincaid, Helena, Ga., writes:—"I have found your Kreamol Shampoo to be the most wonderful shampoo I have ever used, and I have tried a great many different kinds. It stops falling hair, cleans the hair and scalp, prevents dandruff and gives the hair a luxuriant appearance. I wish everyone might know of this wonderful shampoo."

KREAMOL CLEANS THE SCALP—GIVES THE HAIR A CHANCE TO GROW

NEVER USE A CHEAP, ORDINARY SOAP TO WASH YOUR HAIR. Such soap is likely to contain too much alkali and will dry the scalp and is liable to make the hair hard and brittle.

You can get KREAMOL at any drug store. A 50 cent bottle should last a family many weeks. Get a bottle of Kreamol today and try it. YOU WILL BE MORE THAN PLEASED.

"KREAMOL is sold at the WIMMER ARNOLD CO."

How Many Do You Eat?

An expert in statistics has calculated that a woman marrying at twenty, and caring for a family of four children until she is forty-five, will peel no fewer than 83,000 potatoes for home use.

She Was Shy.

Morton, while visiting the ten-cent store, begged for everything he saw, but after being refused said: "Mother, why are you so bashful with your money?"

Getting Contentment.

I've been a great deal happier since I have given up thinking about what is easy and pleasant, and being discontented because I couldn't have my own will. Our life is determined for us, and it makes the mind very free when we give up wishing and only think of bearing what is laid upon us and doing what is given us to do—George Eliot.

Had Won the Right.

A mother of my acquaintance suggested to her five-year-old daughter that she pray for a baby sister or brother. Time passed and the five-year old was rewarded for her prayers, and when the question of a name arose, the little miss demanded the right to name the baby, saying: "I'll name that baby; I did the praying."

How to Tell Malleable Iron.

If the break is clean malleable iron will show two distinct colors, white in the center and black on the outside, this black ring extending into the casting from one-sixteenth to one fourth inch. Malleable will spark a little, but enough to show it is not cast iron, which does not spark at all.

The First American Indians.

According to Keith, the American Indian in all his varieties, is a descendant from the primitive Mongolian type. There is a theory advanced by Payne that in some remote period the progenitor of the Indian came to this continent from Asia over a bridge of land that existed in prehistoric times where the Behring sea now is. Another theory, championed by Dawkins and Winton, assumes that the originals of our native stocks came from Europe, probably by way of Iceland.

Store Editorial

If We Are to Practice Real Economy, We Must Eliminate Needless Waste

Instead of curtailing any business activities (as some few have seemed to construe the real motive behind the economic advice recently circulated) First of all, we should follow our NATURAL NORMAL LIVES during the war just as much as we possibly can and it seems to us, that in order to do this, we should adopt and live up to a very conservative policy on the question of economy For if this be overdone, every line of business will be disabled

It is very obvious that, if everyone in this country should adopt the policy of buying only those things that are absolutely required to cover nakedness and sustain life, the industrial activities of the nation would be paralyzed It is conceivable that under certain conditions this would be the thing to do, but certainly such conditions do not exist at this time, for if this country ever needed real prosperity, IT NEEDS IT NOW!

Too much economy would be an actual interference with the country's prosperity, for all lines of business must be kept alive if this great nation is to continue to thrive Think of the effect, right here at home, for instance, should the output of Coshocton's great factories be lessened to an extreme degree Business in every line would be seriously crippled and the effect would be felt in practically every home in this section, either directly or indirectly.

But if the extreme of thrift and economy is not good policy, neither is the extreme of extravagance. It is difficult, of course to give an opinion as to just where reasonable prudence in spending ends, and extravagance begins or for us to determine for YOU where YOUR economy must stop. You alone can judge this best, and we can only say, that the best thing we can think of, is for you to simply BE SENSIBLE.

IF REAL PROSPERITY IS TO CONTINUE AND REAL ECONOMY PRACTICED, THE GREAT NEEDLESS WASTE OF THIS COUNTRY MUST BE STOPPED

As National Food Commissioner Hoover says "EAT PLENTY! KEEP HEALTHY! BUT STOP WASTE!"

Let's all of us in this community do everything we can to keep ALL lines of trade active and let's all pledge ourselves to stop the needless waste of our locality. There can be no better way for us to assist the United States in waging her successful part of the war.

THE LESSON OF THE STEEL TRUST'S REPORT

When it was announced several months ago that the United States Steel corporation had earned for the year the enormous sum of $342,000,000, it occasioned only slight comment. We have become so accustomed in recent years to inconceivable industrial earnings that figures no longer startle us.

But this sum, the NET INCOME of one concern for one year, is greater than the revenue of any of the smaller nations, is greater than the revenue of several nations rated as important in the political affairs of the world, and is larger than the income of the United States for any year prior to the Civil war. THE EARNINGS ON COMMON STOCK WAS RATED AT 46 PERCENT.

And yet it is admitted by the officials that the common stock in the United States Steel corporation represents nothing but "water." In the fifteen years that have elapsed since its organization this company, besides its tremendous dividend payments, has been able to invest from its earnings $353,000,000 in outside securities. At the present rate its earnings this year will exceed those of last. In truth, it would seem that its officials have succeeded in finding the long lost purse of Fortunatus!

The commodity on which this fabulous wealth is based is a natural resource whose moral title vests in all the people, but whose legal title is in the steel trust. Under a just and normal economic system there would have been no "profits" at all realized from the conversion of this ore into manufactured steel, as the term profits is used in ordinary parlance.

We asked an official of one of the local telephone companies the other day what reason the new company would assign for raising the rates to resident subscribers fifty percent. He replied promptly: "They need the money." He went on to explain that the investment of the new company would be in the neighborhood of $175,000 to $200,000. He said on that capitalization they would base a rate which would yield a net income of eight percent.

He further volunteered the frank admission that these profits of $12,000 to $15,000 ought, under a normal arrangement, go to the people of Coshocton. By a "normal arrangement" he, of course, meant the public ownership of all telephone systems.

How much more then, should the crude ore used by the steel trust, be the property of all the people. Water and air and sunlight went into the creation of the elements in the ore, and yet no one claims that these are the property of any one man or group of men. The finished product, of course, is the property of individuals and corporations; but the natural product, never. It was the gift of God to all men and its monopolization by the few is productive of practically all the social and industrial and economic disorders to which the body politic is heir.

The steel trust, in a way, is a model corporation. It has not been, at least in recent years, a "labor crusher." It has both shortened hours of labors and increased pay. These ameliorating conditions, admirable in themselves, do not lessen the moral wrong that the private ownership of the bounties of nature is always bound to impose on mankind.

The war is arousing more men to the danger in this state of affairs than perhaps could have been awakened in any other way. The holding of land out of use; the monopolization under private ownership of the coal, the iron and copper ore; and the ownership by the few of the means of transportation and communication are shown in all their glaring ugliness under the stress of great national peril. But the peril is there in all its power for evil in times of peace as well as of war.

THE BURDEN

BY WALT MASON

The prices of all things are high, and they'll be higher yet: you'll soon pay more for soup and pie, and liverwurst, you bet. The prices of all things are high, and they'll be higher yet: no wonder that you heave a sigh, if you are plunged in debt. At all times debt's a curse and blight that robs life of its bloom, and when the nations whoop and fight, it is a thing of doom. The man who doesn't owe a red may calmly view the storm: he'll have enough to buy bread and keep the shanty warm. And if an evil day should come when he must ask for tick, the merchants will not haw or hum, but say "Yes" pretty quick. And if he has to borrow loot, the banker will observe, "You are a thrifty lad, my son: I've watched your every curve. When others went in debt with speed, you were a cautious goat, and now I'll lend you all you need, at seventeen per cent." But if you've always run behind, have always owed the price, the banker you will surely find as cold as Greenland's ice. Dark days may come upon us soon, the times that make men sweat: unhappy then the thriftless loon who always is in debt.

before it can claim free Russia as an ally."

The banners attracted groups of men passing, who stopped and discussed them. Finally discussion gave way to action.

Cries of "traitors," "treason" and "they are the enemies of their country" were shouted at the two women holding the banner and after one man yelled: "Let's tear it down," the crowd jumped forward. The canvass was torn from fastenings, leaving the suffragists holding the frames and poles.

Display Martydom.

One of the White House police pursued a man who, he said, was leading in the crowd. The man was Walter S. Timmins, of New York, an electrical engineer. The policeman recovered a banner from Timmins, but it was beyond repair, so the suffragists contented themselves with holding the damaged frames aloft in evidence of their "martyrdom," as one of them expressed it.

The torn banner was carried by Miss Lucy Burns of New York, and Mrs. Lawrence Lewis of Philadelphia, of the executive board of the National Woman's party. They stood it at the west gate of the Pennsylvania side of the White House and unfurled it just a few minutes before the Russian mission was driven into the grounds. Members of the mission paid no attention to it.

But She Gave It Away.

In a central Indiana city a wedding ceremony was taking place and the church was thronged with the society people of the city. The bride, in the march to the altar was noticeably pale. Her sisters occupied seats near the aisle, and when the bride was opposite, one of her sisters said in an audible whisper: "Have a heart, kid, have a heart."

LECTURE

giving perhaps the best child readings ever heard here. Mack's Bird Circus delighted the little folks in the afternoon.

In the lecture of the evening Mr. Hale spoke in part as follows:

"Among all the programs for preparedness now agitating the public mind none seems to have noticed our quite general neglect of the frenzy to get ready to fight a foreign enemy we are impervious to the fact that we are not getting our citizens systematically ready even for peace.

"We content ourselves with a sixth-grade civilization. The average American school child leaves school in the fifth or sixth grade. And this is intellectual capital with which the overwhelming majority of American citizenship is equipped to run the country. But even this relates to only the more fortunate children. The other some two million, according to the U. S. census for 1910—when they reach the mature age of from ten to fifteen years, are drafted into industry and set to the task of making a living. The census tells us that 818,550 of them NEVER go to school—are ENTIRELY illiterate.

"Even those that do go frequently struggle for the second, third or fourth grade as their goal. Many of our schools are without grades. Our agricultural communities are not free from neglect. Ten percent of our rural population is illiterate. Of the children working on the farms reported by the last census, 275,000 are hired out to service as children and become in time the tired out salt-pork-fed hired man at ten or twelve years of age.

"It takes five years and five million dollars to make a battleship, ready to be sunk by the next submarine. It takes 21 years and about $900 to make a citizen, ready to cope with any problem that may arise in peace or war. Yet we plunge into the battleship investment with vigor and leave the citizenship business to take care of itself. Our army of illiterate youth is about twice as large as the standing army that we are about to raise by conscription, to help make the world safe for Democracy. And every one of these 850 thousand children against whom the school house door is closed, is just so much potential dynamite in the hands of our nation's enemies to blow the institutions of our boasted Democracy into smithereens.

"Our most expensive national malady is inefficiency. The most vitally needed line of defense and preparedness program lies in ginning at the foundation, with our childhood and training an efficient citizenship.

"So long as we permit every fourth child born in America to die before its fifth year, so long as we permit every fifth child to be born defective, so long as we perpetuate as army of two million child borrowers, so long as we drive every sixth child under sixteen out of school and fasten him to some meaningless job, so long as we neglect their proper physical and mental training for useful citizenship, and not only neglect moral training but license their moral undoing by government action; just so long we shall convict ourselves as a nation, of an incompetence which will become more patent as we seek to measure ourselves with the nations of the world.

"If America is to aid materially in making the world safe for democracy, we must make our own country and our own citizenship safe for democracy by fitting the next generation."

Why a Dull Man Is Cruel.

In the Man's Home Company Arnold Bennett has an interesting article to prove that the dull man is a bad man. Among other indictments he makes the following: "The dull man has no imagination. He does not possess the faculty of putting himself in the other man's place. Therefore he is open to blunder, to be unjust and to be cruel. He cannot be charitable."

Why Not?

Then came McCarthy's turn and he spoke as follows: "We have a fine church. Our pews is comfortable and our altar is grand. 'Tis true we have no bell. But," said he, "we have steam heat in the church and plenty of coal in the cellar. The divvle wid the bell. Let's get a whistle on the church."

An Explanation.

Charlie had been taught to say the grace before each meal. One day she was invited to a little friend's for dinner. When the father and mother of Charlie were seated for dinner, Bradford, a three-year-old brother, bowed his head and said: "Amen, God, Charlie's gone."

House Plants Must Breathe.

Turn house plants half way about at least once each week, to keep all sides alike and exposed to the light. Keep dust from them by frequent spraying or sponging, so pores will not become clogged. They must breathe or they perish.

Alcohol to Remove Spots.

When furniture becomes marred or scratched sprinkle a few drops of alcohol on the rough surface. Rub a soft dry cloth very rapidly over this spot and the marks will disappear. Do not let the alcohol remain on the surface or it will cut into the wood.

Cold Air as a Tonic.

Cold air is a mighty good tonic in itself. It kills off most of the microbes of common "colds," and a whole lot of other measly germs.

THE MAGIC FLUID

Few drops and corns or calluses loosen and lift off with fingers. No pain!

The world owes thanks to the genius in Cincinnati who discovered freezone, the new ether drug.

Tiny bottles of the magic fluid can now be had at any drug store for a few cents. You simply apply a few drops of this freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a hardened callus, instantly the soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose and shriveled that you lift it off with the fingers. Not a bit of pain or soreness is felt when applying freezone or afterwards. It dosn't even irritate the skin or flesh.

For a few cents one can now get rid of every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, as well as painful calluses on bottom of feet. Everyone who tries freezone becomes an enthusiast because it really doesn't hurt or pain one particle. Genuine freezone has a yellow label. Look for yellow label.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

East less meat if you feel Backachy or Bladder troubles you —Salts is fine for Kidneys.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

FRANCE SOUNDS WARNING

Says Drink Is as Much the Enemy of France as Is Germany.

On the walls of every post office in France the government has ordered the following declaration, signed by the President, to be exhibited:

"To French Women and to Young Frenchmen:

"DRINK IS AS MUCH YOUR ENEMY AS GERMANY.

"Since 1870 it has cost France in men and money much more than the present war.

"Drinkers age quickly. They lose half their normal life, and fall easy victims to many infirmities and illnesses.

"The seductive drinks of your parents reappear in their offsprings as great hereditary evils. France owes to alcohol a great many mad men and women and consumptives, and most of her criminals.

"Drink decreases by two-thirds our national production; it raises the cost of living and increases poverty.

"In imitation of the criminal Kaiser, drink decimates and ruins France, to the great delight of Germany.

"Mothers, young men, young girls wives! Up and act against drink in memory of those who have gloriously died or suffered wounds for the Fatherland! You will thus accomplish a mission as great as that of our heroic soldiers."

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's recipe to bring color, lustre and youthfulness to hair when faded, streaked or gray.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for 50 cents a large bottle, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requiste for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

WAR WILL HELP MAKE OHIO DRY

Is Belief of the State Dry Managers.

LIQUOR TRAFFIC A LIABILITY

European Nations Quick to Discover That Drink Was Their Greatest Handicap and This Country Likely to Have Same Experience—Drys Pushing Work of Organizing the State For the Campaign.

Columbus, O.—Members of the Campaign Committee of the Ohio Dry Federation having in charge the organization of the state for the Prohibition amendment, believe that the war with Germany will mean additional thousands of dry votes this year. They think the people will quickly find out that the liquor traffic will be a tremendous liability and a hindrance to the preparedness so necessary for a vigorous prosecution of the war.

The European nations were not slow in discovering that the liquor traffic was their greatest handicap and that it prevented speedy war preparations. The struggle was not very old until Russia became a prohibition country and all the nations of the world agree that action was Russia's salvation at the front and among the people at home.

Severe restrictions amounting to prohibition in many instances were adopted by the other warring nations. It was Lloyd George who asserted that drink, not Germany, was England's greatest foe and the longer the war continues the stronger is Prohibition sentiment throughout Great Britain.

The Ohio Dry campaign managers are of the opinion that attention will be more sharply directed to the lack of efficiency caused by drink and that voters will realize they cannot afford to tolerate any traffic or institution which unfits young men for being at their best in the service of their country.

The work of organizing the counties of Ohio for the dry campaign is progressing rapidly. All over the state the wheels will be fully in motion before the close of April and petitions to initiate the dry amendment will, no doubt, be in circulation early in May. In many of the counties not only is the organization fully completed, but compaign managers are on the job and laying their plans for the prosecution of a vigorous campaign.

The drys are greatly encouraged by reason of the numerous agencies which stand ready to support the Prohibition amendment. There is a particularly friendly feeling on the part of employees as well as workingmen. Capital and labor both look upon the liquor traffic as an unnecessary waste and responsible for an economic loss so great that it must not be permitted to continue.

Reports from states where Prohibition is in operation are so favorable to the new order of things that it is no longer an experiment and the dire predictions of the wets cause no alarm. The drys assert the campaign starts out with the best possible prospects of victory in November.

The farmers of Ohio, always strong supporters of Prohibition, promise to be more active this year than ever before. The Grange will take a leading part in the campaign. It has advocated state and national Prohibition for years. County Granges are meeting and calling upon the subordinate Granges to line up and get busy. L. J. Tabor, head of the order in the state, is a member of the State Campaign Committee, and will give much of his time in behalf of the amendment.

Household Economics.

The experts declare that if a lot of potatoes is not uniform it is often worth while to sort them and use the large ones with roast meats or at other times when the oven need not be specially heated and save the small ones for times when quick cooking is more convenient.

The Difference.

Everything depends upon a viewpoint. When you play a good one on the other fellow it is a fine example of a practical joke, but when he gets back at you it is a bloomin' outrage.—Indianapolis Star.

Durability of Wood.

In a very dry atmosphere the durability of wood is almost incredible. Pieces of wood, wooden caskets and other articles have been taken from Egyptian tombs of an antiquity to antedate the Christian era by two or three thousand years.

The Horse and the Harness.

Much harness and little horse never pulled a big load. That is why the practical self-made man is so often the most dependable in commerce, war and state.

The Best Library.

We have suddenly seemed to grasp what Solomon wailed over when he had only a small bunch of parchments (and 900 wives to dust them): "Of the making of books there is no end." We start out in life with the idea of reading them all; then we decide to keep up with the latest; we end up by laying hands only on what appeals to us. And this is wisdom.—The Publishers' Weekly.

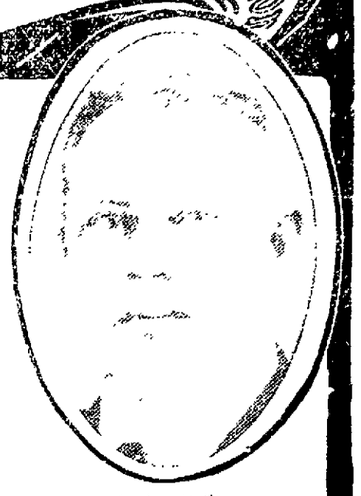
"Talking about Non-Skid Tires"



Boston Calls

It seems to me that some tire manufacturers just cut out the raised tread pattern on their tires with a jig-saw at random; while others figure out the tread formation as common sense directs.

The Diamond "Squeegee Tread" is surely a "reason why" tread. Look at the cross bars. When the weight of the car rests on them, they just naturally get a TOE HOLD on the pavement and stop forward slide.

Then look at the longitudinal bars. They are continually in contact with the pavement and not only stop side skid ALL THE TIME but roll along as smoothly as a plain tread tire.

So if you want a real non-skid tire, we'll sell you a Diamond at its "Fair-List" Price.

"Better put Squeegees all around"

Every Diamond Tire must deliver full value in service. If ever a Diamond Tire fails, a cheerful, willing adjustment will be promptly made.

CATON TALKS TO GRANGERS

Blue Ridge grange number 1448 will hold an open meeting in the hall at Orange Wednesday evening, June 27. H. A. Caton will give an address on "What the Grange is Doing in Legislative Work for the Benefit of Farmers."

AT THE CHAUTAUQUA

—TODAY—

9.30 A. M.—Junior Chautauqua.
2.30 P. M.—Elmer Crawford Adams Co.
8.00 P. M.—Lecture. "The Future of Europe," Hon. Frances Neilson.
8.30 P. M.—Grand Closing Concert: Elmer Crawford Adams Co.

Frances Neilson was a member of the British Parliament and for fifteen years a leader among the Advanced Liberals in Great Britain. Mr. Neilson has spoken on many other subjects, including lectures on "Literature and Art," "Music and Drama," "Democracy and Socialism," "Tolstoi," "Ibsen," "Whitman," etc. His lecture on "The Future of Europe" is not a class room essay, but a vital human document, delivered with all the fire of an intense conviction.

The Crawford Adams Company is made up of Crawford Adams, the wizard of the violin; Roselth Knapp Breed, Boston's woman humorist, and Rollo Hudson, pianist extraordinary.

Mr. Adams has made a name for himself second to none on the chautauqua platform. Ask him to play your favorite piece.

Roselth K. Breed is an artist in her work. The humorous numbers predominate on her programs, but she is a most capable interpreter of serious literature.

Rollo Hudson, in his oil-hand accompanying of Mr. Adams, in the playing of numbers chosen by the audience evidences his possession of marked musical gifts.

Woman's Ability to Dissemble.

Eyeglasses for Diver.

A new eyeglass has been patented for the use of submarine divers. It is well known that the human eye does not function properly under water, objects appearing badly blurred and distorted. This is due to the fact that the speed of light in water is different from the speed of light in air, and hence the light rays enter the eye with a different angle of refraction. The eye being designed for focusing rays coming through the air is unable to focus rays coming through the water.
